PART IINARRATIVE SUMMARY

The Battalion during the month of October was occupied primarily with manning and conducting local search and destroy patrols around static positions. The Battalion had responsibility for Camp Carroll, Khe Gio Bridge, Dong Ha Mt., and Checkpoint #59. In addition, the Battalion supplied 3 companies later in the month to occupy Fire Support Bases, Pete, Winchester, and Catapult.

Enemy contact during the month of October was minimal. There was one incident of incoming artillery and several enemy sightings. Company L captured 1 NVA in the NW portion of the Western Lancaster II AO. The POW had been left behind on account of illness by a unit moving north. The majority of findings indicated old enemy bivouac areas.

Responsibility for Camp Carroll brought the Battalion in contact with a considerable number of civilians along Route #9 and in the Camp Carroll trash dump. There were several incidents of finding suspected VC in the groups of civilians found along the road or in the trash dump. All suspects were released as innocent civilians.

On 23 October the Battalion departed Camp Carroll on an operation to the Northwestern portion of our AO. This operation was the Northwest-ernmost move that had been made by an Infantry Battalion to date in the Lancaster II AO. Signs of enemy activity were again minimal although Company L did capture the aforementioned POW, who stated his unit as the 1st Battalion of the 246th Regiment. The operation terminated on the 30th of October. Company L was opconned to the 4th Marines, vicinity KD773566. Upon return to Camp Carroll, the Battalion prepared to assume responsibility for the Con Thien, C-2 and C-3 in the Kentucky AO.

12. INTELLIGENCE

There were several small contacts during the month of October, including the discovery of trails and several bunker complexes. On 2 October, M/3/3 found an old enemy artillery position which showed signs of recent use. Vicinity XD959536. The position appeared to be possibly booby-trapped and was destroyed by an artillery TCT. On 4 October (040630H), I/3/3 apprehended 9 indigenous personnel. Vicinity YD091564. Detainees were interrogated by 15th ITT and found to be innocent civilians. They were turned over to the Cam Lo District Chief and subsequently released as innocent civilians. 042120H I/3/3, Vicinity YD026562, heard 3-4 rounds of what was believed to have been AK-47 fire from the NB. Vicinities YD031559 and YD031562. Also movement was heard and a scout dog picked up a scent. They fired 1 WP round and 24 HE rounds of 60mm mortars with unknown results. On 5 October (050015H) L/3/3, in the Vicinity YD062543, heard digging outside of the lines. They fired 6 rounds of illumination and the noise ceased. A short time later, a small explosion was heard. On 6 October (081030H), L/3/3 found 1 NVA body, 1 E-tool, 1 helmet, and 2 RPG rounds approximately 2 months old in the Vicinity XD976566. Search of the body revealed no intelligence information. On 13 October (130800H), M/3/3 found a large bunker complex consisting of approximately 25 6'x3'x9' bunkers in the vicinity XD625611. Bunkers appeared to be 1 month old and were used within the past week. All bunkers were reinforced with logs and dirt and contained racks built of bamboo about 4" off the ground. On the tops of the bunkers were overhead eating or sitting areas with small tables made of wood. There was a trail leading to all bunkers with a cooking site on it. The area appeared to be a rest area, not a fighting area. Everything was destroyed. On 18 October (180500H), K/3/3 observed approximately 100 civilians moving NE to NW toward the river in the vicinity XD069579. They detained 3 of the civilians which were turned over to 15th ITT for interrogation and released by the Cam Lo District Chief as innocent civilians. On 19 October (191745H), L/3/3 observed 1 NVA moving west in the vicinity XD965567. They called an 81mm mortar and artillery mission with unknown results. At 191800H, L/3/3 in the vicinity XD964567 observed 1 enemy ~~approximately~~ 100-900 meters away moving south. They called in 81mm and artillery mission with unknown results. On 20 October (201600H), K/3/3 observed 2 3'x8' paddle boats covered with tarpaulin containing 2 or more men each moving down the Cam Lo River in the Vicinity YD081563. On 21 October (210700H) in the Vicinity XD625611, M/3/3 discovered 28 bunkers, aid station, and a cooking facility which would accommodate a large force. 4 cans of plasma and human blood and intestines were found outside of the bunkers. Company M also heard whistle which was believed, according to the Kit Carson Scout, to be enemy troop signal in area. On 24 October (241515H), K/3/3 found a trail running south. The trail had steps. Also found 2 Vietnamese writings on trees. First sign said, "Who" and pointed north. Second sign said, "2d Company NVA headed south." Trail was followed to XD611604 from XD611607. On 26 October (261030H), I/3/3 found a trail running YD793621 to XD761609. Trail runs north to south at that point. Found area which appeared to have been recently occupied by 1-10 enemy. Also found fresh tracks of 1 man heading north. On 28 October (281030H), I/3/3 found a Vietnamese note in a tree in the Vicinity XD762612.

Translated note read, "No supplies or enemy in area and am leaving area." At 261240H, L/3/3 apprehended 1 sick NVA in a hammock in Vicinity XD778606. Interrogation of POW revealed the following information: He is a Pvt from the 1st Bn, 246th Regt. His battalion returned north and left him behind because of illness. They had stayed near a river at Khe Sanh, but the POW did not know if it was KSCB or SK village. He does not know if there are any other battalions in the Khe Sanh area, although he believes his battalion will be replaced by another. The POW was forwarded to 3d Marines S-2 for 15th ITT interrogation and medevaced to B Med, Quang Tri. At 261530H, K/3/3 found a trail complex. The trail leads from Vicinity XD777626 along finger to Vicinity XD779611 and Vicinity XD776607 to XD777596. They found a rest area in Vicinity XD776607. At 261700H, I/3/3 found harbor site with 2 fireplaces and 14 bunkers alongside a stream in the Vicinity XD763597. On 29 October (291300H), K/3/3 found a general purpose mine in a grass hut in the Vicinity XD761593. Also found 1 bunker and 2 spider traps with interconnecting trails to hut. They found 2 trails to stream and trails running to SE. The mine was destroyed. Again as during the month of September, the battalion discovered and destroyed many bunkers and fortified areas in our AO, which were mostly newly constructed or under construction, indicating the enemy's desire to build up and occupy positions in the 3d Marines AO before the full effects of the monsoons arrive and hamper their routes of infiltration into this area from the north.

Time Zone: H

1. ENEMY FORCES.

a. Units.

- (1) Elements of the 52nd Regt. 320th NVA Division.
- (2) Elements of the 54th Arty Regt. 320th Division.

a. These are most probably FO's but the possibility of a 120mm mortar capability exists.

b. Activity.

The enemy in our and adjacent AO's evidently intends to dig in and stay for the monsoons, their mission being to interdict Route #9 and to harass friendly forces in the AO. They have an artillery capability and have been hitting Route #9 convoys with 82mm mortars and sporadic small arms fire. On 12 Sept. 1968 Camp Carroll took incoming 82mm mortar rounds after dark. The tubes are believed to be located in the Dong Ha, Dong Xio area. A company from 2/3 finished a sweep in this area on 12 Sept. They took sporadic 60mm and 82mm fire but made no ground contact. Also along Route #9 there have been at least two reports of indigenous personnel carrying rifles and RPG launchers camouflaged in their bundles of wood.

2. TERRAIN.

The terrain we will encounter in our new AO will differ from the terrain in our last AO. Thick undergrowth will predominate the area with scattered areas of elephant grass and campoy. The greater number of streams in the area which will swell to impassability during the monsoons should be noted. Route #9 is also subject to the ill effects of the monsoons.

3. WEATHER.

a. Five day weather forecast commencing 11 Sept. 1968. Dong Ha Area.

- (1) High - Low 90's

Low - 77

Annex A

Tab 1 Intelligence overlay

1. ENEMY FORCES.

(a) There are indications that the enemy may be planning a resurgence of activity during the next two weeks period; very possibly to coincide with the lunar period between 20 and 25 Sept. It again seems likely that the increase in activity will be designed to pull friendly forces into outlying areas, leaving population centers more vulnerable.

(b) An agent report of 18 Sept puts a VC unit of 30 IF VC and 45 VC district sappers in the 165578 area (SW of Cam Lo). Their missions are: 1, collect information from rock workers along Route #9. 2, Induce children to gain information from convoys. 3, observe allied operations along Route #9 and mine Route #9. The possibility of VC activity is supported by a report from the Gio Linh area of NVA moving into villages at night and holding propaganda meeting dressed as civilians. S-2 comment, "The less contact we have with civilians the better". The large number of civilians in the Route #9 area give the VC an excellent atmosphere to work in.
